MALL PLAN

Last week in the September 6th issue of the Times-Virginian, a sketch prepared by the Division of Environmental and Urban Systems at VPI & SU of a proposed plan for Project - Downtown Appomattox was printed showing provisions for traffic flow and parking if the proposed plan is accepted by the citizens of Appomattox County.

The sketch above, prepared by the same group, shows a more detailed view of the Project - Downtown Appomattox Mall Plan. Study this plan, read about the possibilities, contact council members and express your interest. Project - Downtown Appomattox will become a reality only if YOU like it and want it.

Local Football Fans See Larry Robinson Play With Cowboys

Local football enthusiasts got an added thrill if they watched the pre-season professional football game on television last Thursday night when the Dallas Cowboys defeated the World Champion Miami Dolphins and saw our own Larry Robinson making some good plays for the Cowboy's team.

Robinson had played college basketball for four years and was Captain of the University of Tennessee's team last season. He had hoped to play pro-basketball but was not drafted. In May of 1973 he signed a small bonus contract with the Dallas Cowboys when he received a free-agent offer. He had not played football since his high school days when he was a student at Carver-Price in Appomattox.

In the Saturday (September 8, 1973) edition of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, Executive Sports Editor, Bill Millsaps, who writes "The Referee' column for the paper chose as his topic for that issue "Unusual Route to NFL" and it was all

Interest In "Appomattox Railroad Day" Growing

"Appomattox Railroad Day", November 4, 1-5 p.m., will demonstrate what Appomattox citizens have to share with others - Arts and Crafts, old railroad paraphernalia, and Civil War items. Several citizens have already expressed willingness to exhibit and/or sell items of interest ranging from hand-crafted wooden toys to a display of Civil War troop movements and skirmishes during the "Battle of Appomattox Station".

Depot space for sales and exhibits will be made on a first come, first served basis. Sellers and exhibitors will not be charged for space - the depot will be made available as a community service. The downtown area of Main Street will be closed to automobile traffic and parking in order to provide room for pedestrians and exhibitors. (500 passengers will get off the train in Appomattox.)

Sidewalk space being subject to weather conditions, exhibitors should reserve depot space with Mrs. Hazel Harvey, Chairwoman of Exhibit Committee, phone 352-7868. Mr. Edwin F. Schampel, an Appomattox citizen who is well known for his model railroad displays, has been named Chairman, Physical Planning Committee, phone 352-7982. Mrs. Barbara Mac Pherson will serve as Chairwoman for publicity, phone 352-6811, and "Mac" Mac Pherson, Area Extension Agent and Chairman of Appomattox Railroad Day, is scheduled to appear on TV Stations in Roanoke and Lynchburg in order to promote Railroad Day and Appomattox. Citizens willing to serve on the above-named committees should contact chairpersons. Volunteers are still needed for the following committees: Welcoming, Entertainment Depot Preparation, and Senior Citizen Recognition. Folks can call "Mac" at 352-7114.

The Roanoke Chapter, National Railway Historical Society, will run their "Autumn Railroad Excursion" from Roanoke to Appomattox to Lynchburg to Roanoke, using former Virginia Railway Trackage and two Fairbanks-Morse "Train Master" locomotives (only 12 in operation in the country, all soon to be retired.) Train departs Roanoke, 8 a.m., arrives Appomattox, 2 p.m.; departs Appomattox, 3:45 p.m., arrives Lynchburg 4:30 p.m.; arrives Roanoke 6:30 p.m. Train will travel East via Altavista and West via Pamplin.

Fares for the round trip from Roanoke are $14.50 adults, $9.50 children under 12. Children under 5 and not occupying a seat are free. Group rates (10 or more) available on request: Roanoke Chapter, N.R.H.S., P. O. Box 681, Roanoke, Virginia 24004.

A limited number of seats will be available for a run from Appomattox to Lynchburg at a much lower cost to be announced soon. Appomattox folks might want to tell friends and relatives in Roanoke to ride on down for Railroad Day festivities.

Joins Area Extension Staff

Henry Moore

Henry Moore, Program Leader-State Technical Services, has recently joined the VPI & State University Extension office in Appomattox.

Mr. Moore assumed the duties of this recently created position on August 20th. The overall objective of this position will be to transfer information on modern technology to industries in the District Extension's nineteen counties. Technology sources are available from the VPI & SU Technical Services Division, the various Engineering Schools, Federal Laboratories, and from the industries themselves.

Prior to joining the faculty at VPI &SU, Mr. Moore was Assistant Manager of Research at Filbarco, Inc., a division of EXxon, in Greensboro, N.C. He has spent twenty years with industrial companies which includes service with Rockwell Manufacturing Co.'s Measurement and Control Division as Chief Electronic Engineer. He has attended VPI & SU and is a graduate of North Carolina State University.

Married to the former Miss Rebecca Ann Edwards of Eden, North Carolina, they are the parents of two children, Dena, who is a sophmore at Wingate College, and Ricky, who is a high school junior. The family are presently members of Christ's United Methodist Church in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Mr. Moore says the family is looking forward to making their home in Appomattox and expressed sincere appreciation for the hospitality which has been extended them.

A survey of the existing conditions in Appomattox identified several factors which apparently contribute to the loss of trade and general deterioration in downtown Appomatox. They are physical deterioration and eroding aesthetic quality of the downtown area; inadequate parking facilities; poor traffic circulation; confusing sign and road conditions leading to the town; poor "gate" conditions at the town entrances; and inability to develop the downtown as a tourist center.

Untaken as a studio project by four graduate students at VPI & SU under the supervision of Professor Mike Cunningham, their report offers a proposal to cope with these and other problems confronting the Town of Appomattox by the creation of a downtown mall.

Developed in an 1865 motif, it is believed this project will attract tourists, and hence retail trade, back into the downtown area. This proposal is being presented in a series of Times-Virginian articles.

It is proposed that the downtown area be designed and planned in a unified and comprehensive way to create a thematic setting for the downtown that relates to the historic site. The objectives of such intervention is to attract tourists, to generate more downtown business, and to create a focal point for the community. In keeping with these goals, it is proposed that a mall be constructed on the two blocks of Main Street between Lee and Church Streets. A mall design lends itself well to Appomattox. Vehicular traffic is to be generally excluded from the mall area, thus creating a safe, open space for human activities. Because Main Street is relatively short it is easily traversed on foot.

Constructed in an 1865 motif, the mall would serve to unite visually and functionally the Civil War era with the railroad, both of which had significant impact on the history of Appomattox. Stores attracted to the mall should complement existing establishments and enhance the atmosphere of the mall. A major purpose for the existing of the mall would be to promote activity along Main Street in the commercial sense and to reinforce the downtown as leisurely social interaction and "community". The entire downtown area may be thought of as a park planned and designed especially to accommodate the commercial, sociocultural, and recreational business of the citizens of Appomattox. It is also intended as a pleasant and educational environment where tourists and passerby would want to browse, to shop or dine, or just to enjoy.

Upon entering the mall, several distinct areas would be prominent to the shopper. The Norfolk and Western Railroad is in the process of giving the old railroad station to the Town of Appomattox, to be utilized at a manner deemed most appropriate by the community. Developed into a restaurant and craft shop this all weather facility would serve as a meeting place (social magnet) for day and night-time activities while attracting tourists into the downtown area. A craft shop, to be located in the east end of the depot, would help preserve and encourage handicrafts by providing a place for display and sale of locally produced artifacts.

A fountain conceived as a focal point, is planned for the most public space in the mall. Consiting of a simple,tall spray of water it is easily visible from any point in the mall, the fountain would add new sensory dimension to the downtown - the sound and smell of water. A shallow wading pool around the fountain would provide a refreshing wading place for children and would be designed so that it could be drained when the area is used for parades, concerts, or public spectacles. Adjacent to the fountain is a raised wooden platform which could serve as a smaller assembly area when the wading pool is flooded or as a speaker's platform or dance area when the pool is empty. Serving as a backdrop to the gathering area would be a restored railroad car intended as a major attraction which would serve to enhance the 1865 and railroad theme of the mall. An information booth is planned for the mall which would distribute tourist information and serve as a kiosk for notices of community activities.

Plants and trees act primarily to create a quiet, cool, natural atmosphere for the mall. Occasional pots of flowers, and shrubs add seasonal
